Summary

As a web developer I am able to implement the basic architecture of full stack development. For the front end, I am proficient in HTML, CSS and JavaScript. I am able to utilize popular frameworks/libraries such as Bootstrap, jQuery and React.js. At the back end, I am comfortable using Node.js to create a server. In creating API's, I can use either Express or Nest.js (Typescript). With all this said my preferred stack in development is MERN (MongoDB, Express, React and Node).
